ABSTRACT

Track: OPEN INNOVATION

A web app where the users enter keywords or phrases about their idea(s), they get multiple products where each product consists of material for all the important steps namely a questionnaire for research, research articles links, possible tech stack, code snippets, use case, target audience, deployment help, market pitch, etc. using AI.

This will help the users to focus more on the ideation phase to improve their product and rely on our product for a head start for the implementation part.
